JAPS FEAR CALIFORNIA MIGHT EXTEND PLAN TO PERSONAL RIGHTS, SAYS U. S. AMBASSADOR

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Discussing what he termed "the California issue" in an address today before the University club, Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Japan, declared that the Japanese were fearful that California, having devised the plan of classifying aliens on the basis of their ability to become citizens, might use this method not only in property rights, but also in personal rights.

Ambassador Morris, who has been conducting the negotiations with Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador, with a view to laying the basis of a treaty between the United States and Japan, further declared that the Japanese protest against the California anti-land law presented to the American people the definite question of whether, in the eyes of the United States, it is wise to classify aliens on the basis of their ability to become citizens.

Presenting the issue involved in the present negotiations, Mr. Morris asked that it be borne in mind that the Japanese were not complaining because its nationals resident in the United States are ineligible to citizenship, but asking for greater rights for its nationals; not questioning the right of the United States government to pass, subject to treaty obligations, legislation covering admission or residence of foreigners, nor seeking removal of present restrictions on Japanese immigration. The Japanese government, he added, does "content that it is unjust and unfair to pick out a particular group of aliens who are under certain political disabilities and deprive them of rights which all other aliens are permitted to enjoy."

TEST CASE ON RATES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A test case involving authority of the Interstate Commerce commission to supervise railroad rates within a state as well as between states, reached the supreme court today from Wisconsin. Counsel for the state railroad commission filed an appeal from an injunction granted the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, which would restrain the state commission from interfering with the filing of a new tariff schedule authorized by the federal commission. Advancement of argument to expedite a final decision will be asked.

HAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

Disarmament Overtures To Other Nations Should Not Be Made Until Change Of Administrations, Says Knox

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The question of total or partial disarmament should not be discussed by the United States with other nations pending a change of administration, March 4, E. A. Tamm, who helped to form the League of Nations, declared today in a letter to Chairman Butler of the House naval committee.

The precise method of procedure, Mr. Tamm said, ought to be determined after and not before Mr. Harding and his secretary of state have had an opportunity to inform themselves and to reach conclusions as to the way which affords the best prospects of success.

Mr. Tamm declared his strong belief that steps should be taken promptly after the new administration is established to bring about a general agreement for disarmament.

Writing Chairman Butler under date of January 20, Mr. Tamm said: "I have your letter of January 14 asking an opinion to aid your committee in considering an estimate for additional ships of war, requiring for their completion the sum of $107,177,000.

"I do not feel like hazarding an opinion as to what reply other governments might make to a suggestion that our government for the appointment of representatives to meet for the purpose of discussing the question of total or partial disarmament.

"I feel strongly that steps should be taken promptly after the new administration is established to bring about a general agreement on that question. It is plainly impracticable to accomplish this before the change of administration.

"The precise method of procedure through which the attempt should be made (think ought to be determined after and not before Mr. Harding and his secretary of state have an opportunity to inform themselves and to reach conclusions as to the way which affords the best prospects of success.

"Action on your part based upon any opinion which you can form now as to the best method of procedure might prove to be just the wrong thing and might create obstacles to success instead of helping them along.

"The subject is especially difficult because of the disturbed condition of the world."

President-Elect, Like Wilson, Seeks To Hold Aloof From Newspaper Correspondents

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—About the last thing most people imagined last autumn on election day was that Warren Harding and Woodrow Wilson had anything in common but some of the correspondents who will accompany Mr. Harding on his trip to Florida reveal the interesting information that the two men are behaving exactly alike toward newspaper men. This may or may not be characteristic of Presidents-Elect and it may or may not be the result of a sudden turn from private life to the burdens of public life but it is the usual struggle of a President-Elect to remain a private citizen as against the scribblers who insist that the public has a right to know what a man elected to the Presidency of the United States does from day to day.

Doesn't Want Newspaper Men Along

Mr. Harding told the correspondents that he didn't want them to follow when he boards the houseboat. He will return to a port every few days and confer with the newspaper men but he warned them that they would hear "mountains of disapproval" if they trailed along. The other day, when he set out for Cleveland he asked the correspondents to say nothing about it. He wanted to stop in privacy. So they agreed not to announce it in advance provided two or three correspondents could go along to report on any possible emergency.

Mr. Harding isn't a bit different from Woodrow Wilson in all this. Correspondents who remember what happened just after the election in November 1912, are authority for the statement that when Mr. Wilson decided to go to Bermuda for a rest, he was very much disturbed when the newspapermen told him that of course they would have to accompany him. He insisted that there would be no news—just as Mr. Harding says there will be nothing doing but rest on his southern trip. But the correspondents said it didn't matter. They must accompany him and Mr. Wilson was so

Found Guilty Of Murder

DAYTON, O., January 22.—A verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree against Clarence P. Bevins, of Thermopolis, Wyoming, was returned today by a jury in the common pleas court. Bevins was charged with killing Morris Herrman, pawn broker, last July. Charles D. Jones, Salsville Mine, West Virginia, alleged accomplice of Bevins, is serving a life sentence. In returning the verdict against Bevins, the jury recommended that Judge Davis show the man mercy.

AGED COUPLE MARRY

KNOWVILLE, TENN., January 22.—Word was received here tonight of the marriage of several days ago in an outlying section of Knox county of the Rev. J. C. Hayes, aged 71, and Mrs. Lannie Fox, aged 71. "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" was sung by a quartette attending.

K-5 Sinks At Approaches To English Channel, Cause Unknown

LONDON, January 22.—The British submarine K-5, Commander John A. Guiney, was lost with all hands Thursday at the approaches to the English channel, the admiralty announced this afternoon.

The complement of the lost submarine was not given, but vessels of this class carry approximately six officers and fifty men.

The disaster occurred 100 miles off Land's End. A full complement of officers and men was aboard. The K-5 class of submarines is the latest type of British submarines, the vessels being 338 feet high in length, with a surface speed of 24 knots and a speed submerged of nine knots. They carry eight torpedoes, one four inch gun and one three inch gun. The cause of the disaster is not known.

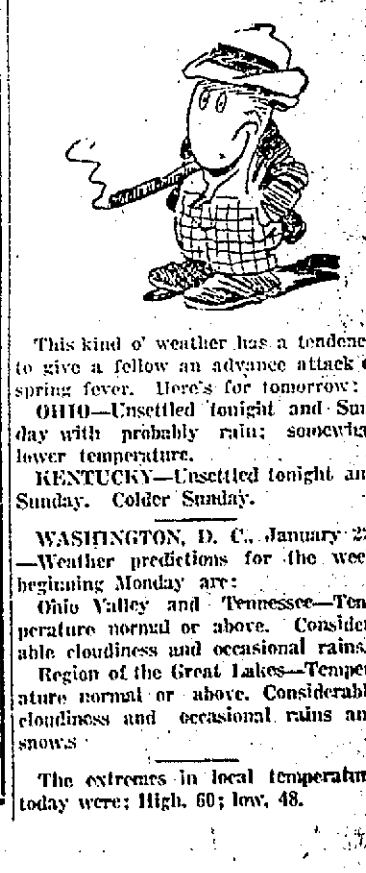

Available naval animals do not reveal the tonnage or dimensions of the K-5 class of submarines, which were known as fleet submarines, with a length of probably 300 to 350 feet. They were built especially for crossing at sea with the grand fleet.

SHIP BOARD TO CONDUCT INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—An investigation of the contract between the International Mercantile Marine Company, an American corporation, and the British government will be conducted Thursday, it was announced today after a meeting of the board. An opportunity will be given P. A. S. Franklin, president of the company, and others interested, to be heard.

In announcing the action of the board, Frederick I. Thompson, the vice chairman, said it was "the opinion of the commissioners present that no issue of larger moment affecting the establishment and permanency of an American merchant marine had come before the present board of consideration."

Famous Bar Closes Doors

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., January 22.—The Palace Hotel bar, whose hazy atmosphere had been the resting place of many a famous elbow, where many big mining and business deals of the early days of San Francisco were consummated, is gone.

Its passing was celebrated quietly yesterday. The farewell toast to the place, eloquent with memories of ancient convivialities, was drunk in ginger ale.

The original bar was built in 1890. It was rebuilt after the fire and earthquake in 1906. Behind the bar hangs a famous Maxwell Parrish painting, "The Piped Piper."

The bar, a soft drink dispensary since the advent of prohibition, will be converted into an annex to the hotel grill.

Will Make Shoes Of Ostrich Skin

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—Ostrich skin shoes, which it is claimed will outwear leather footwear and cost less, soon will be seen in Boston. The first consignment of ostrich skins arrived here today in an American steamship from South Africa. Manufacture of the shoes will begin immediately and they will be offered to women and men as an Easter novelty.

DEPORT MARTENS, SOVIET ENVOY

NEW YORK, January 22.—Nearly two years effort by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens to gain recognition by the United States government as the ambassador of the Russian soviet government ended today with his departure for Stockholm, Sweden, on board the steamship Stockholm. It was the final execution of an order from the department of labor, for his deportation as an undesirable alien.

Hundreds of personal friends of Martens, and of his "ambassadorial" retinue of 42 crowded the docks to bid farewell.

Although the department of labor offered the best accommodations for the ship affords, Martens declined, saying he wished to buy a ticket and travel like any other passenger.

Before boarding the ship Martens issued a statement expressing "grateful appreciation for the great personal pleasure, to find everywhere men who have not allowed hysterical fears or prejudice to move them from their sympathy with the cause I have represented."

Recluse And Wife Driven From Swamp

LAUREL, MISS., January 22.—Driven from his cabin in the swamps along Leaf river by high water, Albert Parsons, an aged white man, and a woman who says she is his wife, were brought to Laurel today and placed in the county poor house. The finding of Parsons is believed to set at rest the reports of a wild man, current for years, said to be living in this section.

Parsons says that he and his wife lived on wild root berries and wild animals; they were able to trap. With them when found was a child, which in spite of the cold was entirely without clothing. Parsons told the sheriff that he caught his wife in a steel trap many years ago.

A Free Booklet On The Care of Food In The Home

Every woman should know all about the care of food in the home. She should know how to guard against damage from flies, dust, mold and everything else that will taint what the family eats.

If a woman is not wise and vigilant in these matters she not only risks her own health, but that of all whom she serves.

Now comes Uncle Sam to help out in this important matter.

A free booklet is waiting for every woman who will send for it—a booklet which gives the results of careful scientific study on the safe way to keep all kinds of food. It has many illustrations.

Send for a copy and send the name of some other woman who may not see this offer.

Harding Has Cedar Chests Full Of Memoranda But Will Stow It On Houseboat

BY ROBERT T. SMALL (Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Jan. 22.—President-Elect Harding has brought with him to Florida a mass of memoranda on many subjects. This material is carefully stowed away in cedar chests aboard his private car. One or two of the chests will be taken aboard the houseboat "Victoria," which has been waiting at St. Augustine for some time for its distinguished guest, but it is doubtful if the memoranda will be unpacked for several days to come.

Senator Harding wants at least a brief breathing spell away from all the cares and trials and tribulations that are crowding fast upon him as he nears the White House portals. He wants to forget cabinet making and cabinet gossip for a time. He wants to make believe that there are no such things in the world as office seekers or "job hounds." This is possible apparently only when he is in transit.

Uninvited Callers Turned Down

The Senator's last day in Marion was marked by the appearance of a score or more of unexpected callers at his headquarters. An engagement had been made for only one, however, and Mr. Harding positively refused to see the others. In the first place the uninvited callers had no right to trespass upon his last day at home, and in the second place, Mrs. Harding had sent him peremptory orders to come over to the house and pack his trunk. Once in the White House he will have a personal messenger to do all that sort of thing for him, but just now (Continued on Page Six)

Watchman Cuts Off Sputtering Bomb Fuse

NEW YORK, January 22.—A sputtering fuse, attached to a large square bomb in the basement of a house in process of reconstruction in Brooklyn, was cut in the nick of time early today by the night watchman, Tony Franko. The fuse was severed two inches from the bomb.

Franko was so badly burned while hacking at the fuse with a pocket knife, that he had to be taken to a hospital, where his condition was said to be serious. He told physicians that as he went into the cellar he saw the dark forms of two men, one of whom had just lit a match. When he shouted to them they ran away after firing shots at him.

Why did she leave him a note and run away?

WOMAN RE-ITERATES CHARGES SHE MADE AGAINST CITY JUDGE

STILL IS FOUND; OWNER IS MISSING

Following a tip that Ed. Harper, negro, had been dispensing moonshine liquor for several days in the North End, Chief Distel, Capt. Starzmann and Officer Powers, raided the Harper home at 1211 Union street, late Friday night, and were rewarded in finding a large still in addition to 50 gallons of mash and a small quantity of high proof liquor.

While the officers were making a search of the cellar, where the still was discovered, Harper dashed away and escaped after a merry chase through streets and alleys of that section of the city. A charge of unlawfully manufacturing liquor in violation of the prohibition law will be pressed against Harper, if caught, Chief Distel said Saturday.

At 2:15 in Mayor Davis court in New Boston Judge Horace L. Small, through his attorney, Judge A. Z. Blair, entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of furnishing liquor unlawfully to Stella Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson was present, and said she came back from Kentucky this morning and that she would have come sooner if she had known that she was wanted.

When the Thompson woman was placed on the stand she reiterated her charges. She said she met Judge Small at 1073 John street at 7 o'clock last Wednesday night and says she was with him later on at Lust's place, Eleventh and Findlay streets.

Lone Man Deadlocked Jury; Woman Bitterly Flays Him

CLEVELAND, O., January 22.—The jury—four women and eight men—in the case of John Williams, charged with cutting to wound, failed to agree on a verdict after spending twenty hours in deliberation and were discharged late today.

After the jury foreman had reported to the court that it was impossible to reach a verdict because one male juror's opinion could not be changed, Mrs. Edith D. Lashman, one of the women jurors, bitterly scored the attitude of the lone male who held out against the other eleven and asked to be excused from further duty with the jury as it is now constituted.

Piez Denies Charges Made By Gillen

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 22.—Charles Piez, of Chicago, former director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, appeared today before the house committee investigating shipping operations to deny charges against the operation of the corporation which were made by Martin J. Gillen, formerly assistant to the chairman of the board, in a special report submitted to the committee some weeks ago.

Commenting on the charge made to the committee at New York by Colonel E. H. Abadie, former Comptroller general of the shipping board, that a voucher for $200,000 had been presented for Mr. Schwab's personal expenses, Mr. Piez declared "it is unfortunate that any suggestion of improper action on Mr. Schwab's part has been made at this hearing."

Mr. Piez recalled a trip made to the Pacific coast to inspect the fleet corporation work there.

Mr. Schwab paid all of his expenses, as well as those of his private party, the witness said, "and I paid mine."

Mr. Piez said he was receiving $75,000 a year when he joined the Emergency Fleet Corporation's force at $7,500 a year and that he always paid "all of my own expenses."

Sims Favors One Big Base On The Narragansett Bay

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 22.—The navy yards on the Atlantic coast should be sold and the money used for the building of one big base on Narragansett bay, in the opinion of Rear Admiral William S. Sims, president of the war college.

Speaking at a meeting of the chamber of commerce forum last night, he said he believed Narragansett bay should be developed by the creation of repair plants capable of caring for a whole fleet, adding that the bay was the only place on the coast that he knew of where an entire fleet could be sheltered in safety. Mrs. Bush Granted Divorce
Judge Thomas granted a divorce to Mrs. Bush, a former N. and W. woman, whom she married May 28, 1913.

The plaintiff told the court that Bush deserted her more than two years ago and that he had failed to support her and her two children since that time. Evidence was introduced tending to show that defendant sometime during 1919 married another woman at Enid, Okla., and that officers of that city are seeking his arrest on a charge of bigamy. The decree was granted on the ground of neglect and the plaintiff was awarded the custody of her two children. She was represented by Attorney T. C. Beatty.

Taken Under Adversity
Judge Thomas heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Susanna Schaffler, South Webster, against Frank Schaffler, in Common Pleas court Saturday and then took the case under advisement.

They were married April 26, 1913, and the plaintiff alleged neglect and cruelty, testifying that Schaffler failed to support her, never bought her any clothes and cursed and abused her. She declares that he finally deserted her several months ago. W. R. Sprague, attorney for plaintiff.

The divorce suit of George W. Davis, 9th Gray street, against Margaret Davis, 1025 Twentieth street, was partially heard by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Saturday and then continued until the defendant can be brought into court to testify in her own behalf as well as to secure the evidence of other witnesses.

They were married April 24, 1906, and he charged her with infidelity while in her answer and cross petition she charges Davis with neglect, desertion, cruelty and accuses him with associating with other women. They have children.

Judge Blair represented the plaintiff and Attorney L. A. Thompson appeared for the defendant in the absence of Attorney B. F. Kline, who was out of the city Saturday.

Motion Overruled
Judge Thomas Saturday overruled a motion to quash the indictment in the case of Hollis Brown, negro, charged with giving perjured testimony in connection with his defense when on trial recently on a charge of robbing James Funk, Jackson street carpenter.

The accused is represented by Attorney Joseph T. Mickelthwait.

Welly Will Filed
A will executed on April 13, 1914, by John Welly was filed for probate Friday. Mr. Welly died recently at his home in this city and under the terms of his will leaves his property to his widow for life and then it is to be equally divided between his five children.

Guardian Appointed
Frank L. Sikes was appointed by the probate court Saturday as guardian of the estate of Miss Eleanor Watkins, of Sciotoville.

The ward is an aged school teacher and the appointment was made for the purpose of conserving her means. It was stated.

Wants To Become Citizen
Peter G. Stavros, one of the popular of the Classic, Fifth and Chillicothe streets, filed his application of intention to become a citizen, in the office of the clerk of courts Friday. Stavros, who is 22 years old, is a native of Greece, having been born at Kosma, on September 4, 1898, and he emigrated to America in 1912.

Deny Guilt
Lewis Gordon and Albert Green, Green township men, appeared before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday and pleaded not guilty to "John Doe" indictments brought by a recent grand jury charging the unlawful cutting of timber from the lands of Frank Eckhart, Franklin Furnace farmer. The defendants were released from custody on their own recognizance.

Thomas Defendant In Two Suits
William S. Thomas, steelworker, living over the Corner Book Store, was made defendant in two actions for damages instituted in Common Pleas court, one in which Fred Kogley, Bonlevard dairyman, is seeking $228, and the other was brought by Walter Barney, Bonlevard steelworker, who seeks $245.50.

The suits are echoes of a collision between automobiles which occurred on Scioto Trail on the night of Nov. 21, 1920, when Thomas ran his car into Kogley's machine, it is alleged, and in the smash-up Barney was injured and both his machine and Kogley's car were both damaged. It is claimed.

The plaintiffs sued through Attorney George W. Sheppard.

WITH THE SICK
Mrs. Joseph Switalski, who has been ill at her home on Officers street, is improving.

Mrs. Mary Nagel, of Waller street, who has been seriously ill, is some improved. Mrs. Nagel will celebrate her eighty-third birthday anniversary Monday, January 24th.

Eakins Store Robbed

Merchandise valued at $200 was stolen from the Frank Eakins and company's general store at Star Yards this side of Sciotoville last night. Entrance was gained through a transom over the storage room door on the east side of the building. The footprints in the mud near the store and the plunder taken indicate that the robbers were very youthful, shoes and other costly articles in the store not being touched.

The plunder included about a dozen sweaters and sweater coats, ladies silk hosiery, several alarm clocks, 10 cent wrist watches, pocket knives, several bottles of perfume, neckties, 10 pounds of butter, and about $8 in small change left in the cash register. The robbery was discovered early Saturday morning when the place was opened for business.

This is the first time the store has been visited by robbers in a couple of years.

Thief Gets Cooper's Watch And Roll

No trace of the burglars that invaded the branch store of The Distel Furniture company at New Boston Friday night and made a safe getaway with $100 and a gold watch has been gained by the officers working on the case.

Entrance to the store, which is located in the Diebler building, 4005 Gallia avenue, was gained by forcing a rear door and the missing property was taken from the trousers pockets of Manager J. H. Cooper, who changed clothes and came to Portsmouth to spend the evening and while in the city discovered he had left his valuables behind.

Returning to the store at a late hour to secure the money and watch, Mr. Cooper discovered the back door open, and an investigation disclosed that the valuables had been stolen, but nothing more was found to have been disturbed. The manager promptly notified the police and Sheriff Rickey and Deputy Barry Dunham, who happened to be there on another mission, joined in the investigation. The bloodhound owned in the village was taken to the scene and the dog took a trail which led up Munro's Run for a distance and then halted. The hunt was later abandoned.

Mr. Cooper is well known in this city, as for two years he was in charge of the Millbrook Casino during the summer months.

HOPKINS FOUND GUILTY

It required a jury in Common Pleas court Friday afternoon one hour and thirty minutes to return a verdict in the case of Harold Hopkins, West side young man, finding him guilty of stabbing with intent to wound, as charged in the fourth count of the indictment.

The case went to the jury at 2:30 yesterday afternoon and at 4 o'clock reported with its verdict. P. B. Roush was foreman and it is understood the jury took a number of ballots before finally agreeing.

The verdict carries with it an indeterminate sentence to the Mansfield reformatory. Louis Hopkins, brother of the convicted young man, is under indictment on a similar charge.

The charge grew out of a fight staged along a West Side road on the night of Sept. 14, 1920, between Martin Sommer and his brother, Ray Sommer, and the Hopkins brothers, and during the altercation Martin Sommer received a serious knife thrust in the right side.

Harold Hopkins admitted the cutting, but claimed he was justified in using the weapon and made a plea of self-defense. The state contended that the Hopkins brothers brought on the trouble and were the aggressors, and the jury by its verdict evidently took the same view of the trouble after hearing the evidence.

The case was bitterly contested throughout and was well tried. Attorneys Blair and Blair, who defended the accused, excepted to the verdict and gave notice of a motion for a new trial pending the hearing of which the defendant was released on bond.

Prosecutor Sheppard was assisted by Attorney Theo. K. Funk in handling the case for the state.

IRONTON, Jan. 22—It is believed that all the preliminary arrangements incident to the drive for a bridge between Ironton and Russell have been successfully completed, or will be, within the next few hours and that following a campaign of intensive publicity to acquaint local people with all the salient facts, incident to the big project, a drive for the sale of stock in the new bridge will be put on in this city under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, and continue for two weeks.

The bridge as projected, will be of a combination type, providing for two street car tracks, a roadway for vehicular traffic and a walk for pedestrians, and its location has been definitely determined at a point somewhere between Lawrence and Adams streets, crossing the river at right angles with the current of the stream landing in Russell upon public property. It is learned that the cost of the bridge will be something less than a million dollars and that the assured traffic will give a handsome return on the proposed investment. The bridge approach in Ironton will not touch private property and it has been definitely determined by engineers that it will be possible to approach the bridge from Third street, this distance permitting an accessible grade for street cars and vehicles.

The Yellow Dog

NUMBER 14

At the last election, November 2nd, Toledo which has had, possibly more trouble straightening out its local transportation problems than any other city in the United States, voted almost three to one in favor of granting a service-at-cost franchise to its street railroad.

At the same election two municipal ownership bond issues were both overwhelmingly defeated.

In other words, people of Toledo voted to permit the owners of the street railway to operate their property and to allow them a fair return on the money invested to supply the service.

This election was held when the rates of fare in Toledo were seven cents and a two cent charge for a transfer.

Surely the people of Toledo must have had great confidence in their street railroad company to approve by a three to one vote an ordinance to permit the company to do business in a business way in face of a seven cent fare with two cents more for transfer passengers.

What the election really amounted to was an expression of good faith on the part of the voters.

Through the long fight in Toledo, during which time there was a suspension of service covering a period of several months, the people came to learn that the only economical mode of travel in a city today is by trolley, and that the only way to get this service was to be fair to the company rendering it.

That is, the people of Toledo learned that the power to regulate involved the obligation to protect; that the company could not do its duty unless the public does the same; that a company must be allowed to earn or it cannot finance or develop; that a company with earnings gone loses its credit, and without credit its ability to serve must suffer; that the public if it wants service must hold out the right hand of fellowship, it must give as well as take.

Will the people of our community realize these truths as the people of Toledo did without going through the inconveniences and hardships the people of Toledo had to experience while they were learning the truth about their street railroad?

Every day of delay means that the day when your street railway will be unable to serve you is just one day nearer.

Much encouragement is to be had in the general public interest shown in the welfare of electric railroads. From every part of the United States reports are coming that not only regulatory bodies but car riders generally are taking a greater interest in the restoration of street railways to a healthy state. In practically every community there appears a desire on the part of car riders to cooperate in an effort to make the lines self-sustaining and to encourage a flow of new money into the industry.

This widespread and well nigh universal granting of increases to the industry is a healthy indication that the inclination to prevent companies from receiving sufficient return to maintain good service is confined to a very small number of persons.

We are sure the people we serve are as fair minded as will be found anywhere, and feel that they are for justice in this matter as well as all others of a public nature.

If you are for justice and good service this is as much your affairs as ours. It is the most important matter to come before you for a considerable time.

The small number of people you find in every community who are always against justice will need no urging, they are always on the job.

MISS DOLLY WISE

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Please answer these questions and settle an argument. How long does one have to be a resident of the following states to obtain a divorce? Texas, Arizona, Georgia, Kentucky and California. Also if a bucket of water weighing ten pounds is placed on the scales and a fish weighing ten pounds put into the bucket of water how much would it weigh?

GENUINE
Residence required for a divorce in the states you mentioned is one year. Do you want to know the weight of the bucket, the water or the fish? Their combined weight would be 20 pounds less the amount that would run out when the fish jumped in.

Dear Miss Wise—How long has Portsmouth been a town—I mean how long has it been here and how old is it?

WANT TO KNOW
The plot for Portsmouth was made by Major Henry Massie in April 1803. That would leave us 118 years old.

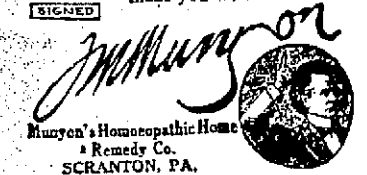

Dear Miss Wise—I am enclosing you a clipping from the Times of January 19th regarding our law makers at Columbus and a nice bunch they are. One of the main things they are doing is trying to figure out how much taxes they can get and how to spend it. They try to tax everything above as well as underneath the earth then figure out how much salary they can pay office holders from dog catchers up. The common people are totally ignored. Thanking you for space, I am a Tax Payer who is very disgusted with our law makers.

THANK YOU
I agree with you but that's all I can do. The common people and everybody else seemed to want a change and they got it.

Jackson, Ohio. Dear Miss Wise—My girl friend and I were at a show the other night and Tom Moore's brother played, but I can't remember his name. I think there are three brothers of them, Tom, Owen, and I don't know the other brother. I hope you will tell me his name and please tell me which one is the oldest and which is the youngest as I am very anxious to know because I think Tom is the youngest but am not sure which one is the oldest.

BLUE EYES
Tom is the oldest. He is 24, and Owen is 23. Mat and Joe are the two younger brothers. Their sister, Miss Mary Moore is also in the movies.

My Dear Miss Wise—I am a married woman with two children aged 11 and 7 years. My husband does not make us a living. We are always in debt. No matter where he works he never gets all that is coming to him or that is what he tells me. He is so untruthful even about the most trivial things. Now what can one do with a man that will willingly do anything and everything. Tell you he has paid bills when he has not and when I ask him what he does with his money just says he doesn't know where it goes. I try so hard to make home pleasant for him and the children, but I can't keep a house on nothing. He invested money I received from my home and lost it all, and now don't want to pay for a few clothes I need very badly. I must keep the children in school. Can you tell me something to do to make a little money to get these much needed clothes. Is there any hope for a man who cannot or will not tell the truth. Is there anything worse than a liar.

DISCOURAGED
An irresponsible father is about the most disgusting thing imaginable. There is nothing you can do with a person like that. They will just go on telling one big one after another in spite of everything, so there is no use wasting time and space talking about them. If your husband is working insist that he give you enough to live on and don't start to work unless it is absolutely necessary. If you have a big house you might rent out a room or two. Or you might go out and work by the day in private homes. You could also do small washings for men and women who board. You could do plain sewing or baking.

Miss Dolly Wise—I am a broken hearted girl and if you can please help me out, do so. When I was just past 16 years old I met a fellow whom I thought very much of. In fact I didn't think I could ever like any one else so after we quit I thought of him night and day. I just couldn't forget him. And then when I was past 17 years old I met another fellow so I learned to care for him and forgot my first love. Now this fellow and I have quit and he has left and I have tried to forget him but I just can not do it. Do you think I could care for some one else and forget him as I forgot my first love? I am just past 18 now.

IN DOUBT
Sure, you'll forget about them. Fickle girls like you fall in and out of love a dozen times before they fall for good.

Dear Miss Wise—I like to read your column and I want you to give me a kind answer to this question. What do you think of a teacher who told her pupils "why didn't they wash their dirty faces and hands, and change their dresses." Now Dolly I am a mother and have one child in school and another one will start next year—both girls. The one that goes now has a clean dress on every other day, and when I put one on her Thursday I always tell her to keep it clean for Friday. Do I do right? In winter time you can't depend on sun shining days can you? When I put the other child to school if I start a clean dress on her every day that will mean 10 dresses a week for me to wash and iron. Is that very many or not? Of course I know that the teacher does not like to sit and look at dirty children for I wouldn't myself, but she is not giving the mothers who keep their children clean credit for what they do. What do you think about it?

A READER
You are too sensitive. The teacher did not make that statement for the benefit of your child. She said it before the whole school so as not to humiliate the poor children whose mothers do not take enough interest in them to wash their clothes and send them to school clean. If I were the teacher I would send a note to their mothers instead of scolding the kiddies.

SOCIETY
A dinner was given last evening at the home of Miss Marie Little on Third Street, honoring Miss Margaret Klingman, by her associates in the Fourth Street school building. Miss Klingman, a teacher at that school, is the fiancée of Mr. Albert Schmid of this city. Covers for fifteen were laid at a spacious table, the colors being pink and white, in the dining-room, attractive with the glow of candle-light. Suspended from the chandelier was a large pink rose, radiating from which were ribbons, showering rose-petals over the table. The centerpiece was a large bride-doll, dressed in white satin and fur, wearing a bridal veil and carrying bride's roses. The favors were pink crepe baskets of candy, and the dainty place cards were pink roses, hand laid by Miss Kate Conins.

Miss Little was assisted in serving the three-course dinner by her mother, Mrs. Sara Little, and Misses Nellie Fawn and Bertha Kiehlman. The dinner was followed by a poem, written for the most of honor by Miss Kate Vigus, the presentation of a gift to the bride-elect, music, dancing and contests. In which prizes were won by Miss Elsie Muller and Miss Margaret Klingman. Those enjoying the evening were Misses Margaret Klingman, Carrie Zottman, Harriet Seufft, Kate Conins, Kate Vigus, Nellie Fawn, Ruth Klingman, Helen Uhl, Mildred Neff, Alfercia Scott, Elsie Muller, Bertha Kiehlman, Marie Little, Katherine Burns and Mrs. Bessie Baker.

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Be the Best Medicine for Girls and Women

Hamilton, Ohio.—"I had such awful pains in my back I could hardly stand on my feet and I was never without a headache. If I walked up town I thought I would drop and many a time I felt so bad I had to go to bed and I was not able to do much of my housework. I would have hemorrhages every two weeks and dragging down pains. I had been feeling badly for three years and had two of the best doctors in the city, but I kept getting worse and only weighed 125 pounds. I saw your advertisement and I took eight boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets, four bottles Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and your Liver Pills and noticed an improvement right away. Now I weigh 188 pounds and feel fine. Everybody tells me how well I look and asks me what I took and I always say, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the best medicine in the world for any sickness to which girls and women are subject.' I will always have a good word for your medicine."

Revival In Progress At Manly

"Strive to enter in at the straight gate for many I say unto you shall seek to enter in and shall not be able." Luke 13:24.

This was the text of the sermon delivered at Manly church Friday evening by the pastor Rev. P. C. Wolf on "The Narrow Way."

When is one living in the "straight and narrow way?" One is living in this way when he is willing to sacrifice his all to attain the great object—the kingdom of God. Contrary to the opinion of the unsolved, Jesus by speaking of the narrow way did not mean that those who walk therein must live secluded, cramped lives in their manner of living. No one has to omit from his life one thing in order to enter God's kingdom except the things that make for death.

There are similar obstacles in both the narrow and wide roads but those who walk in the former are prepared to overcome them and reach the summit of happiness. There will be no services tonight. An added feature of Sunday evening's service will be special music by the Columbia Chorus, composed of members of various churches of the city. The public is extended an invitation to attend.

Stomach Upset?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramps or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.

Miss Nellie Miller, instructor, standing, with one of the foreign mothers in her class.

Brooklyn, New York, is doing a very practical and efficient work along Americanization lines. One of the most notable features of the plan is the teaching of English to foreign-born and foreign-speaking mothers. Miss Nellie Miller is in charge of a special class which is growing rapidly. Nurseries for babies are provided so that the women may be free for a couple of hours a day in order to attend the English lessons.

Miss Mary Davidson, one of the season's brides-elect, who is being much fettered previous to her marriage to Mr. Charles L. Hyland, was again complimented this afternoon, when Miss Helen Dunn received for a charmingly informal tea in her home on Offshore street. Miss Dunn's attractive house-guest, Miss Dorothy Copcock of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Charles Blackmore of Roanoke, Va., were among the guests who passed the delightful afternoon with the hostess and hostess.

In serving the attractive luncheon, the hostess was assisted by her mother and sister, Mrs. A. G. Dunn, Miss Mildred Dunn and Miss Lena Hauck. Numbered among those on the guest list were Mesdames Blackmore of Roanoke, Evan Williams, Rea Selby, George Breese, Eric Ferguson, Charles Mitchell, Lora Hildecock, John L. Nienhoefer, Walter Head, Raymond Wiltsee, J. J. Davidson, Mavis Bridges, Charles Gould, Richard Tremper, Hugh Tremper, James Williams, Howard Harsha, Everett Drew, Misses Dorothy Copcock, Cincinnati, Mary Davidson, Helen Haldeman, Bess Turley, Helen Harkin, Marie Ware, Edith Hudson, Katherine Hall, Edna Hauck, Myrtle Alexander, Dorothy Dowling, Lena Hauck, Ethel and Stella McCall.

Science and Theory.
Theorists may disagree, but not scientists. Science means knowledge and men are scientists only to the extent of their absolute knowledge. The true scientist will never ask that you accept his opinion; he only asks that you accept his facts.—Dr. Cyril G. Hopkins.

Mrs. Samuel Froth and daughter, Miss Louise, of this city, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Furr of Ironton.

Mrs. Alonzo Jacobs of Walnut Street entertained Thursday evening with a miscellaneous shower in honor of her sister, Mrs. Robert Martin (Mary Allen). The guests included Mesdames Charles Workman, Albert Senner, Keif Burton, Eliza McQuillen, James Allen, George Schweinsberg, Clyde McKenzie, Fred Burgess, Ben Wallace, George Schweinsberg, Jr., Edith Henry, Robert Martin, Misses Helen Schweinsberg, Ruth Jacobs, Mr. John Allen and Billy Schweinsberg.

WOMAN BISHOP DENIES PRACTICE OF HYPNOTISM

Mrs. Alma White.

Suit has been filed in Denver by Thomas A. Goode against Mrs. Alma White only woman bishop and founder of the Pillar of Fire church, which at one time had its headquarters in Denver and now has a branch there. Goode claims the church, headed by Mrs. White, defrauded the affections of his wife and defrauded him of property.

BILLY WHISKER

FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

The center of interest in the fruit exhibit appeared to be half way down the hall, for there gathered the largest group of wondering people, who pushed and crowded their way to the front, each eager to secure a glimpse of that which caused so many admiring glances and chit's. And Billy, of course, was not slow in reaching this spot.

Up he marched, and knowing the best way to forge ahead was to use his horns, he stooped to that, and butted his way to the front.

"Oh, the pumpkin man, the pumpkin man!" cried a little youngster. Lightly, jumping up and down in his excitement, and there, to be sure, he stood in full array.

A very wonderful man he was. His head was round as a ball, for it was fashioned from a fat little pumpkin, the roundest that the fields could furnish. Eyes were made from corn husks, cut as large as a silver dollar while the eyebrows were heavily outlined with black ink. Nose and mouth were cut like logs and girls do for jack-o'-lanterns for Halloween pranks, and teeth were furnished by large kernels of corn.

This queer fellow's body resembled to a striking extent an elongated pumpkin, and his arms were perfectly matched, long-necked summer squashes. His hands were doubled up into fists, being the enlarged ends of the squashes. A pair of legs were made of golden corn, and the dandy was topped out in a corn-husk cravat jauntily tied in a four-in-hand and his feet boasted a pair of blood-red ties, though most people would have called them red ears of field corn.

"Hello, 'Pumpkin Man,'" was Billy's cordial and friendly greeting, for Billy felt he could claim acquaintance with everything hailing from a farm.

The Pumpkin Man maintained a dignified silence and stared straight ahead.

"How-d'ye do, old fellow?" Billy repeated, edging a trifle closer, for so popular a man must be one whom it would pay to know most intimately.

The Pumpkin Man glowered at him—or so Billy thought.

"The impudent rascal! Most likely he wants to put on effed airs. I've heard of people who were ashamed of their city clothes and who were ashamed of the city folks do without a farmer? Why, I think a man who can farm the way Mr. Trent does is one of the greatest men in all the land, and ought to be ranked with bank presidents, professors, judges, and so on. But it is because he wants, homage he shall have."

"How do you do, Mr. Pumpkin Man?" Billy ventured the third time, now bowing low before him in a courteous.

But not a sign of recognition lighted up the fellow's face. He maintained that blank stare, which was most disconcerting to our Billy Whiskers.

"I shall make him pay dearly for insulting me so, and before all this crowd of watching, curious people, too!"

(Tomorrow Billy has a combat with the Pumpkin Man.)

BISCUITS
"Please let me help you, Miss Gwendolyn, I really am an expert in the kitchen, in spite of my being an editor-pitchman, and all that," said John Neele, Gwendolyn, wisely, as she popped her pan of biscuits into the tiny oven, with a sigh of relief.

"I wonder now," he answered, slowly. "No use making any bets against any such a probability, even though at this moment Paris, London and the world of great events are the only things that seem worth while to me. Just to get to Paris, London, and try myself out there. That is my idea of what I must do, just now."

"And mine, too," confided Gwendolyn, softly. "Though I don't tell Fern this, for she thinks that I am perfectly content to settle here and go no further. The blood of our ancestors than those stay-at-home farmer folk is in my veins, however, and will have its way, before I ever settle to any one woods again. That I do know," she finished with a positive little nod at her head.

"Ten, that's the stock I come from, Miss Gwendolyn, the salt of the earth they are, Joe, bless them. And at this very moment the old home gate is yawning wide against my return, for they still hope and pray that the wanderer will come back to his own people. That's the mending faith in their honest hearts. But I'm afraid they have a long wait still, for I'm just at the beginning of things, and I feel that fame is beckoning to me from hills meet far away. And no I can tell you, just now."

"I'll watch the biscuit if you want to set the table yourself," volunteered John. "You know best where the silver and china is and it will take you less time than it would me."

"Be with you in a jiffy, thanks," smiled Gwendolyn, as she clutched a pile of silver to her and caught up a tray of china and whisked out.

"Biscuits," said John to himself, reminiscences, as he stood staring into space. "Biscuits."

"Macaroni Verse."

This is a kind of humorous verse

in which, with Latin as a base, words of other languages are introduced,

using Latin inflections and constructions. The term was selected since it implies a mixture of languages—comparable with the mixture of ingredients found in a dish of macaroni. The name is sometimes applied to verses which are merely a mixture of Latin and the unadorned vernacular of the writer. This type of verse has long been known in Italy.

LARGER CONGRESS WOULD MAKE LITTLE CHANGE, SAY CRITICS.

AS SMALL GROUP RUNS THINGS IN BOTH HOUSE AND SENATE

Political students are of the opinion that the increase in the size of congress, based on the latest decennial census, will make little difference in the workings or results of the legislative body. They point out that the house and the senate are virtually run by small groups of men. A dozen senators and a score or so of representatives take the lead in all moves and achievements. The others are scarcely heard of in the news of the day. Practically all the present leaders in both branches of the legislature will continue in office next spring.

In the senate Charles Curtis of Kansas is the whip. Leaders of prominence are James W. Wadsworth of New York, Frank B. Brandegee of Connecticut, William E. Borah of Idaho, Reed Smoot of Utah, F. E. Warren of Wyoming and Henry Cabot Lodge of Mass. In the house Frank W. Mondell is floor leader. Other prominent members are Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, James W. Good of Iowa, F. H. Gillette of Mass., who is speaker; Julius Kahn of California, and James R. Mann of Illinois.

Then came the big smash. Tommy thought he couldn't live another minute without Mrs. Miller's cooking and Harry believed he wouldn't last out the hour if he couldn't "step out" with Mrs. Robbins. They talked it over calmly. Divorce was the only solution, but not until they had swapped wives for a week! Did the plan work?

THIRTEEN YEAR OLD GIRL, REPROVED BY MOTHER FOR NOTE WRITTEN TO BOY, SHOOTS HERSELF

Lifeless Body Is Found By Distracted Parent

Brooding over admonitions given by her mother late in the afternoon concerning a letter she had written to a boy, and over some money matters is thought to have caused Julia Gladys Sparks, 13 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sparks of Walnut street and Rhodes avenue, East Portsmouth, to take her life by sending a bullet from a .32 calibre revolver through her heart about six o'clock Friday evening, while the remainder of the family was at the evening meal. The parents and friends are at a loss to account for any other motive and the letter the young girl left bears out the motive advanced.

The parents are grief stricken over the girl's rash act and today the mother was in a serious condition, a physician being in almost constant attendance at her bedside. She is unconscious at times, the state of coma being brought on by her hysterical condition of last night.

The young girl had no doubt thought over the suicide for several hours for she had carefully written the note before sending the bullet through her heart. The note was taken by neighbors shortly after the shooting. In it the young girl explained where she had obtained some change she had in her possession and which her mother questioned her about.

She also told her complete plans for taking her life and how she went into Mr. Burton's bedroom and got his gun. She bade "good-bye" to her father and mother and Mr. Burton.

Mother Finds Note Written To Boy

The girl had just been promoted from the seventh grade to the eighth grade at the Gaffield school Friday. She had been given money earlier in the day to buy her new school books and she had some money left after buying the books. In the afternoon the mother found a short letter the girl was writing to a boy friend and when the girl came home from school she took her to task for the letter. The mother also found the change the girl had left from the books and she questioned her about this. The girl had refused to tell where she got the change and that led to words between them. A short time later the girl said that she was going to the city in the evening and was going to change clothes. The mother gave her clean clothes and she went to her room upstairs. The girl had changed her clothes before taking her life, although she put on a different dress from the one she intended to wear to the city. The note she had written was clutched in her left hand when she was found by her mother.

The mother, grandmother, Mrs. Julia Niles and Mr. Burton who boarded with the family were at the supper table when they missed the girl. She had been away from the table before at meal times and as she was known to be dressing no attention was paid to her absence at first. Later after the mother had called several times and had not received a reply she went to the girl's room. A knock at the door did not bring a response and then she gained entrance by going out on the veranda and then into the bedroom. She found the almost lifeless form on the bed with the revolver in the girl's right hand. The persons downstairs did not hear a report of a gun but later the grandmother said she heard a noise during the meal that must have been the discharge of the gun. The girl had pressed the revolver close to her breast and in this way the report of the gun was muffled. The girl's clothing was burned on account of the gun being so close.

The mother's screams brought Mr. Burton upstairs, and to the girl's room, but the mother was so overcome that she could not let Mr. Burton in and directed him to gain entrance by way of the veranda.

Girl Only Gasp After Mother Came

The girl was dead when Mr. Burton reached her side, the girl gasping once or twice after the mother had raised her head. Dr. W. G. Cheney, of New Boston, was summoned, but the girl was beyond all medical aid.

Coroner J. D. Hendrickson was called and after examination of the body said that the one shot was fatal, the bullet reaching the most vital part of the heart.

The girl had appeared as bright as ever at school Friday. She was interested in the basketball team at the school and had made announcements relative to a coming game.

Mr. Sparks is a street car conductor and only a short time before the shooting the girl had carried his supper to him. She had also been in the Burton grocery and had appeared as happy as usual. She was a favorite with her schoolmates, always possessing a jolly and jovial disposition.

Julia Gladys Sparks was born at Cram, Ky., June 17, 1907. The family has lived in this city about 12 years and has lived at East Portsmouth two years. She was the youngest child in the family and was idolized by her father and mother. Besides the parents a sister Mrs. Charles H. Riepenhoff of Glenwood avenue, New Boston, and a brother William, of Valley, Lewis county, Ky., survive.

The girl had attended the First Christian Sunday School a number of times.

The funeral services will be held from the home privately Monday afternoon.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs kidneys, then the back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally. Also we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and is harmless to the system and it cures. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

tact with the press. Twice he ordered secret service men to keep newspaper men away from him on summer vacations. In the first two years he gave occasional audiences to the entire corps of correspondents but these were discontinued about the time the war broke out and were never resumed.

Mr. Wilson rarely if ever gave any newspaper writer a private audience. It is probably no exaggeration to say that Mr. Wilson never spent a total of more than six or seven hours in private audiences with correspondents in the eight years he has been at the White House. And it is also a fact that only one or two correspondents ever saw him more than three or four times in the entire eight years.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft seldom met a week ago by without a private conference with at least one or two correspondents or writers. Mr. Wilson never would have been able to manage the business of contact with the public at all were it not for the shrewdness and unassuming modesty of his private secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, who probably will always be remembered as one of the best friends the Wilson administration ever had. Harding may talk indirectly of doing the same thing—namely talking to the country indirectly but both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft found it more effective to talk directly to the press themselves. Much of the misunderstanding about the policies of the Wilson administration can be traced directly to laziness or indifference or attitude toward the press and such defense as was given the Wilson administration by correspondents from time to time was hardly ever due to any inspiration from the White House, but largely to the voluntary effort and enterprise of writers both inside and outside of Washington who either loved sincerely in the cause they were defending editorially irrespective of the persons or party involved or who believed they were discharging their journalistic duty of telling the truth as they saw it.

There may be a change when Mr. Harding gets to Washington but the verdict of most of the press correspondents is that the new president is starting off as old his predecessor.

eastern Europe, and it is difficult because too many nations have special apprehensions of danger against which they wish to guard. The new administration will soon learn what is the best way to deal with these difficulties. It may be that they cannot all be dealt with in the same way or by the same process.

"I think this expresses my views as fully as I could do if I were to go to Washington and appear before your committee."

Mr. Ford's letter was presented to the naval committee today by Chairman Butler, who emphasized that it was not the purpose of the committee in seeking the best judgment of the country to make a declaration of its own on the question of disarmament.

"We are simply trying to get the views of men like Mr. Ford," said Mr. Butler, "and it is not our purpose to embarrass the present or the incoming administration or attempt to tie the hands of President-elect Harding."

Guns Are Used In Fracas At New Boston Station

Residents of the East End of New Boston had visions of a real crime wave with hold burglars in their midst about midnight Friday, when they heard a volley of shots fired in close succession. The trouble was at the New Boston street car waiting station, where a quartet of young men started a rough house. During the height of the trouble it is alleged the young men fired a revolver, breaking window lights and knocking holes in the plaster. In the mix-up, pop bottles were thrown and furniture overturned.

According to Deputy Marshal Ray Buckley, the four young men claim they did not have any guns and that ten foreigners fired the shots to scare them away. The young men arrested last night were Linck Stamper and Russell Lutz, Lester Davis and "Smoke" Davis were taken to the mayor's office last night, but the officers say they let them go home on their promise to return this morning. They kept their promise and were locked up Saturday morning, all four being charged with disorderly conduct. Chris Markas, one of the foreigners, was also arrested, charged with disorderly conduct.

Saturday morning Officer Callahan Smith of the Portsmouth police department went to New Boston and brought "Smoke" Davis to the city jail. He is charged with carrying concealed weapons, the affidavit against Davis being filed by Gus Esares of New Boston.

The city police also have warrants for the other three men on the same charge but when Officer Smith went to New Boston after the trio Mayor Davis refused to hand them over until they had their trial there on the disorderly conduct charges.

Gus Esares, who has a pool room opposite the waiting station says that one of the four came into his place of business and threatened to shoot him, the young man displaying a big revolver. Esares promptly got his revolver and ordered the young man out of his place of business.

THIEF USES DUPLICATE KEY TO TO ROB STORE IN NEW BOSTON

Twenty-six dollars in currency was stolen from the Albert Knittle confectionery, Rhodes avenue, New Boston, Thursday night.

Mr. Knittle on closing up late Thursday night put the $26 in paper money and $22 in silver in a clear box under the iron safe and when he got the cigar box out to start business Friday the paper money was missing. The doors were found locked just as before. According to him, the person who gained entrance must have had a duplicate key.

Death Claims C. E. Minor

Charles E. Minor, aged 54, one of the city's best known colored residents, passed away Saturday morning at the home of his brother, Fred Minor, of 310 Washington street. He had been ill six weeks with a nervous breakdown. He was a son of the late John G. and Martha Minor and is survived by two brothers, Louis and Fred Minor. The deceased was for years a faithful employee of the Irving Drew Shoe company.

The funeral services will be held from the Minor residence on Washington street at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The last rites will be in charge of Trinity lodge, P. & A. M., and Rev. W. E. Watson. Interment will be in Greenwood.

"Japanese aliens resident in the United States," said Ambassador Morris after asserting that he was not discussing the merits of the issue, but its destination, "are not eligible to citizenship, our naturalization laws have been interpreted as applying only to white persons or persons of African descent. This is in a sense a discrimination or perhaps better—a selection of those whom for one reason or another we are willing to admit to the privilege of American citizenship."

The Japanese government is not complaining because Japanese aliens resident in the United States are ineligible to American citizenship.

"Nor is the government of Japan asking for its citizens resident among us any greater rights than those conceded to other aliens."

"May I ask you therefore to note in the second place that the government of Japan is not in any way questioning the right of our government to pass any legislation it may see fit covering the admission or residence of foreigners among us."

"In the third place therefore, may I ask you to note that the Japanese government and people are not clamoring for the removal of any of the present restrictions on Japanese immigration."

"In 1920 California devised the plan of classifying aliens on the basis of their eligibility to citizenship. In 1920 this legislation was amplified by an initiative and referendum act. Other states are now seriously considering similar legislation and the people of Japan are fearful lest this method may be used not only in property rights, but also in personal rights."

"It is against this method that the government and people of Japan are most vigorously and earnestly protesting."

"We should keep clearly before us just what the issue is, so that we may more intelligently determine it in the light of the facts and arguments which are being submitted to us."

Glass In Harding's Stateroom Window Broken By A Rock

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 22.—The glass in a window in President-elect Harding's state room aboard his private car broken by a rock believed to have been thrown by a small boy, was replaced when the train stopped briefly here today, en route into St. Augustine. Mr. Harding left his car only to shake hands with friends on the rear platform and there was no demonstration, crowds being excluded from the depot yard.

MEN AND WOMAN HELD FOR MANY ROBBERIES

CHICAGO, January 22.—Four men and a woman, believed by the police to have been responsible for more than thirty-four robberies during the last two months, involving loot between $200,000 and $350,000, were arrested today.

Elmer Johnson, one of the suspects, according to the police, answers the description of one of the slayers of Paul Loberg, a jeweler, who was shot and killed during a hold-up several weeks ago.

Several hundred dollars worth of furs were taken by the police.

Three Hurt When Bridge Falls

DAYTON.—Three men were injured when two spans of the west Third street bridge collapsed.

If you want to insure your car, or property of any kind, we would be pleased to do it for you. Office open evenings from 6 to 9 o'clock.

Martens Deported

"My departure," the statement continued, "has come as the logical and inevitable consequence of the policy of the American government toward soviet Russia." He declared he had worked a long time before being able to induce the expression of a definite policy and that "my mission here would have terminated much earlier if the department of state had been willing to take the responsibility which was finally assumed by the department of labor. This, however, is a curious matter of American official procedure, which I do not pretend to understand."

Mr. Martens said he had no knowledge of the future plans of the American government, "nor can I tell what direction this policy of ignoring the existence of the established government of the largest country in Europe will lead."

"I can only say," he concluded, "that when the American people are prepared to approach this problem the government of the Russian workers and peasants will be ready to meet them in a reasonable and friendly spirit."

Probe Fall Of Bridge Spans

DAYTON, O., January 22.—City and Miami conservancy officials today began an investigation to learn the cause of the falling of two spans of the West Third street bridge last night, when two automobile trucks and a pedestrian were caught in the crush. The machines were wrecked. George Semler, truck driver, suffered a fractured skull, but the other two men were not seriously injured. The men and machines fell about forty feet. The damage to the bridge is estimated at $100,000. Fire Chief Lambly said there is danger of another span collapsing.

Ford Still Gains On Newberry

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 22.—Henry Ford's gain over Senator Newberry in their Michigan senatorial contest was 2,000 votes at the close of work today by the Senate Privileges and Elections Committee with 1,002 of the 2,232 state precincts reexamined. Senator Newberry's plurality was about 7,500 and the heavier voting precincts still remained to be recounted.

Unemployed In Montreal On Strike

MONTREAL, January 22.—Montreal is confronted with a strike of the unemployed. Refusal of many former service men, out of work to accept employment offered by the city has produced the paradoxical situation.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthol Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and discomfort. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Menthol-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

Harding Has Memoranda

the Senator gets along very happily by doing it himself. He is not much of a hand at carrying a tune, but he knows away in lively fashion with his long fingers into trunks and suitcases, and the other end of the time he has the advantage of knowing where he put his favorite necktie or pair of socks.

Leave-Taking Not Gay Affair
The leave taking at Marion was not a very gay affair to say the least. The day was dark and gloomy, with rain falling in the afternoon. The Harding home in Mount Vernon Avenue, with its broad and famous front porch, wore a very dejected air outside as well as in. It seemed very bare and forlorn to the passerby. All the curtains were down and one could look into the almost dark interior. For several days furniture vans have been hauling goods away, some of it going to friends and some to storage. It has been said that no man can be isolated after seeing his household goods and chattels exposed to public gaze on a moving van, and the next President of the United States probably was no exception to the rule. The Harding house has been rented and it is doubtful if the Senator and Mrs. Harding will live there again.

Mrs. Harding Goes to Washington
When Mrs. Harding said goodbye to her husband at the train in Marion Thursday at midnight, it was the first time she had been separated from him since his nomination and election. Wherever he went during the campaign Mrs. Harding was always at his side. While the President-elect is cruising for two weeks on the home-bound, Mrs. Harding will be doing some belated shopping in New York and attending to some matters at the Harding residence in Washington which has not yet been disposed of. She will join her husband at St. Augustine some time after the first of February.

While house hunting it is doubtful if Senator Harding will devote much of his time to work, although he rather expects to snatch an outline of his inaugural address. He also will ponder a considerable amount of the memoranda he has accumulated, and may reach a decision as to some of the still doubtful places on the cabinet slate.

They include the port folios of Labor, Interior, Navy, and Agriculture. There are more conflicting interests at work concerning Labor and Agriculture than nearly all the other cabinet positions combined. However, for the moment Senator Harding is away from it all, and is supremely happy.

Sciotoville Wins Game

Friday night the Sciotoville high school boys' five was a 23 to 20 game from South Webster on the South Webster floor. The game proved to be the most hotly contested game played in the Sciotoville high school league. Brock, Powell and Edwards played a perfect offensive game for Sciotoville. Courtney guard was all over the floor and played a fine game. Brown at still scored played his best game of the year and held his man to two baskets.

Cook, the star point getter for South Webster was only able to get three field goals last night which is proof that the Sciotoville guards were playing at their best.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MAN ACCUSED OF STEALING PURSE FROM WOMAN HELD ON 2 CHARGES

George Ake, 33 years old, was arrested about 2:30 o'clock Saturday morning, charged with highway robbery and for violation of the Crabbie Act, the arrest following a purse-snatching affair on Waller street about midnight when it is claimed Ake grabbed a leather purse from Mrs. Julia Owens of 1201 Front street.

He was nabbed by Captain Lee Startzman of the police force just after the fellow had purchased a ticket at the N. & W. depot for Columbus. Startzman and Officer Powers had been on the man's trail for several hours.

Mrs. Owens, who claims she was with Herbert Smith the greater part of the evening, says she met Ake earlier in the evening on Ninth street and that later he followed Smith and herself. She claims she left Smith at Second and Waller street and that within fifty yards of her home or on the east side of Waller between Front and Second Ake overtook her and grabbed her leather purse, the strap handle being broken by the purse snatcher. Mrs. Owens claimed she had about $22 in the purse. Smith, who was on Second street, says he saw Ake run past him and when Mrs. Owens caught up with him a few seconds later and told of her loss he gave chase. Ake, he says, in a yard of a Second street house near Union.

The loss of the purse was then reported to the police who got to work on the case at once. The officers did not find the purse or money but found, they claim, a pint of liquor on Ake. The finding of the liquor resulted in the second charge being placed against the man who will be given a hearing Monday before Judge Small. He denies stealing the purse.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Indiana Lady Had Something Like Indigestion Until She Took Black-Draught, Then Got All Right.

Servitor, Ind.—"Some time ago I had a sick spell, something like indigestion," writes Mrs. Clara Penock, of Route 6, this place. "I would not vomit at the stomach, and spit or vomit, especially in the morning."

"Then I began the use of Theodore's Black-Draught, after I had tried other medicines. The Black-Draught relieved me more than anything that I took, and I got all right."

"I haven't found anything better than Black-Draught when suffering from trouble caused by constipation. It is easy and sure. Can be taken in small doses or large as the case calls for."

When you have sick stomach, indigestion, headache, constipation, or other disagreeable symptoms, take Black-Draught to help keep your system free from poison.

Theodore's Black-Draught is made from purely vegetable ingredients, acts in a gentle, natural way, and has no bad after-effects. It may be safely taken by young or old.

Get a package of Black-Draught today. Insist on the genuine, Theodore's. At your druggist's.

Four Shots Fired At Man Wanted On Serious Charge

Deputy Sheriff Harry Dunham stated Saturday that he had found no trace of Harvey Stratton, aged 22, who is wanted on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Tami Miller, aged 14, who is in the county jail. The officer learned last night that Stratton was at the home of Mabel Carter, at 932 Galia street. When he called there, Stratton fled him and succeeded in evading the officer, but not before Dunham fired four shots at the fleeing prisoner. The Carter woman at first thought that Stratton had been wounded or killed, and her screams could be heard for some distance. She quieted down when told that her lover had not been wounded and escaped by leaping over the high fence in the rear of her home. Stratton, who is about 22 years old, lives on the Scioto Trail near the Five Mile Church.

Judge Claypool Laid To Rest

CHILLICOTHE, Jan. 22.—The remains of the late Judge H. C. Claypool lie in state for a few minutes preceding the funeral services at 10 a. m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian church. The burial service at the grave was private. The active pall-bearers were Messrs. James A. Devine, W. W. Doudler, A. R. Wolfe, M. G. Chandler, A. P. Minshall, N. P. Clayburn, and the honorary pall-bearers, Col. Chas. Sumner Young of Washington, D. C., D. J. M. Lester, Judge J. C. Douglas, F. A. Slavery, White Brown and A. Clark West.

CASES WERE IN PIKE COUNTY

CHILLICOTHE, Jan. 22.—Pike county again threw a small scare into the local health authorities Friday. Health Commissioner G. E. Robbins was notified that there were several cases of diphtheria near Richmond along the Ross county line and were down to investigate, so as to prevent any spread of the disease into Ross county. The commissioner and his assistants, Health Clerk Acton, found that all the cases were in Pike county. Two children in one family had died very recently from the disease, and four children in a neighbor family were down with the same sickness. An investigation showed that none of the children had attended Ross county schools, so little danger of a spread is felt.

PROFIT SHARING CHECKS DISTRIBUTED

More than a hundred employees of the Lee Lumber company were made happy Saturday when they received checks for substantial sums and evidence the prosperity the company has enjoyed the past year. A letter thanking the employees for their co-operation accompanied each check and the management makes known its intention of making additional improvements and extensions with a hope of making even a better showing in the coming years.

Judge Tries "Still" Case And Also Acts As Counsel For Accused

CLEVELAND, Jan. 21.—When Claude Miller, caretaker of a Cleveland cemetery, charged with the operation of two stills, pleaded not guilty before Judge D. G. Westenhaver in Federal Court today he had no lawyer. "I think this case ought to go ahead," Judge Westenhaver said. "I'll be your lawyer. Go ahead, Mr. District Attorney."

Assistant District Attorney D. J. Neelham introduced testimony of several agents that they found the stills in Miller's shed.

"Now for the defense," said Judge Westenhaver. "Take the stand, Mr. Miller. Your defense is that you know nothing about the stills?"

Judge Westenhaver asked Miller a dozen questions, including the usual questions to establish his good character. He took the jury eight minutes to find Miller guilty. Judge Westenhaver then fined him $50.

NEW BOSTON TEAMS BEATEN

Two basket ball games were played on the New Boston High School gym last night between the girls and boys team of that school and the two teams of the Wheelersburg school. New Boston suffered defeat in both games.

The first was a girls game which was played according to girl rules, having five players on a side and over the double line. The game was snappy and the interest was intense. There was a large crowd of spectators from Wheelersburg and surrounding community present. They did good cheering for both games. The line-up was as follows:

New Boston: Ruth Kellen, Venetta Hensley, Edna Koch, Louise Swamberger, or Ellen McElvaine, Frances Gray, Edna Schaefer, Ruth Duffel, Edna Andre, Sub. Naomi Smith center for Ellen McElvaine. Referee, Miss McCall, W. H. S. Miss Davis, G. H. S. Score 18 to 12 in favor of Wheelersburg.

DAVIS WANTS PROBE OF NEW ROAD CONTRACTS

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 22.—The last setting of road contracts by the state highway department December 31, amounting to about $3,000,000 is being investigated by Governor Davis and the legislative reorganization committee, it became known today.

Leon C. Herrick, of Norwalk, new highway commissioner, appointed by Governor Davis yesterday, will be instructed when he takes office Monday, it is said, to hold up these contracts and ask for new estimates.

A. H. Taylor, former Democratic state highway commissioner, declared today that these contracts had all been let and signed and nothing short of court action could stop their being carried out. Some of them were signed on the day of the letting, he said, and bonds were given for the performance of the contracts on January 10. This was the day Governor Davis was inaugurated and the day before Taylor was dismissed by Davis.

The contracts let at this time represent many important highway improvements, included among the jobs being pavement of ten miles of the national pike midway between Columbus and Springfield and improvement of North High street in Columbus. The Franklin county road contract has already been attacked in the courts by the Columbus, Delaware and Marion Traction Co., but could not proceed because Judge Kinkaid, who was hearing the case, ruled that there was no highway commissioner. Herrick will be substituted as defendant in the case as soon as he is confirmed. Confirmation of Herrick will be asked of the state senate by the governor Monday. He will be expected to plunge into the reorganization of the department and investigate letting of contracts just as soon as he qualifies.

The legislative committee on reorganization is clothed with authority to investigate any department, having been given authority to compel attendance of witnesses and production of books, and its first work may be to probe the highway department.

EXPASTOR CARRIED OUT THE ROBBERY ALONE, CLAIM

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., January 22.—With Guy Kyle, former pastor of the Free Methodist church of Mount Vernon, under arrest and virtually all of the money recovered, post office inspectors today were continuing their investigation into the theft here January 14, of 51 packages of registered mail containing $185,000 cash and $27,000 in negotiable securities.

Developments early today had convinced the inspectors that Kyle carried out the robbery single-handed, it was said, but further examination of the former pastor, was planned to learn how he became acquainted with the movement of the large shipment of money.

A. Whitehead, one of the three inspectors, who have been working on the case, said this morning that "one or two" men who Kyle was said to have implicated in his confession, had been questioned but that nothing had been discovered which would cause them to be held.

The inspectors spent the night checking up the cash they recovered at Kyle's home, and in his two garages, and it is believed that less than a thousand dollars remains to be accounted for.

Kearns Is Heard From

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Jan. 22.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion of the world, when notified that the $50,000 forfeit bond which was posted in New York for the Carpenter-Dempsey fight had been found, made the following statement today:

"Dan McKerrick and the rest of those fellows knew where the bond was all the time. The bank had it and the one they found in my safe deposit box was just a copy. The real bond was posted in the early part of November and has been in the hands of the bank office that time."

IMPROVEMENT AT DETROIT

DETROIT, MICH., January 22.—A further slight improvement in the unemployment situation in the Detroit area was reported by the Employers' Association, which includes most of the larger factories today. About three thousand men were put to work by members of the association and smaller firms during the week. It was estimated. This shows a decrease of approximately 5,000 in the unemployed here as compared with two weeks ago, when the number was placed at 124,000.

The theft took place early in the morning, while the money was being transferred from the post office here to the Chicago and Eastern Illinois depot for shipment to nearby towns to meet mine pay roll.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—An extensive drive against leading shares was made at the active opening of today's stock market. Oils and shippings were especially vulnerable. California and Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch, Atlantic Gulf and United Fruit losing 1 to 2 points in the first few transactions. Steels, equipments and motor specialties also were heavy, particularly Gracble, General Electric, Haskell, Barker and Kelly-Springfield. The General Asphalt and International Paper fell 1 and 2 points, respectively, and Reading led the lower trend among rails. A block of 6,000 shares of General Motors changed hands at a slight fractional decline.
Shorts renewed their selling of popular issues in the stock market today, causing losses of 1 to 2 points in various shares, especially oils, steels and equipments and shippings. Specialties of the types represented by General Asphalt and Sumatra Tobacco also were depressed to some extent. Rallies in the latter part of the session began with local tracings which rose 1 to 3 points on reports that legislation aimed at higher fares is soon to be introduced at Albany. Mexican Petroleum, Crucible Steel, Pressed Steel Car and Studebaker also were conspicuous in their recovery. The closing was steady. Sales approximated 350,000 shares.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Jan. 22—Offerings of wheat were light today and prices advanced 2c before the upturn was checked. There was a general rush of short covering and commission houses buying at the outset while on the bulge there was some selling attributed to the same interest that has been credited with selling freely for some days past. A report from central Illinois told of considerable sales of wheat here yesterday. Initial quotations, which varied from 1c lower to 1c higher, with March 1 1/4 to 1 1/2.

Reds New Catcher Suffers A Broken Leg

CINCINNATI, Jan. 22.—The news was received yesterday that Catcher Juddie Hargrave suffered a broken leg while playing with the St. Petersburg club of the Florida Winter League on Wednesday. A number of the league players are performing in this league, but Hargrave is the only one who has been seriously injured so far. He was hurt while sliding into second base in a championship game. It is not yet known just how serious the injury is, but it is a bad break. It will take two or three months, at least, before the crack backstop will be able to play again. This means that he will not be able to take the Southern trip with the Reds, and he may not be in shape to start the championship season, which begins on April 15. President Herrmann wired last night for full particulars of the accident.

To Publish Baseball Agreement

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Ignorance of the law rules which will govern organized baseball under the regime of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis as baseball commissioner will not be accepted as an excuse for their violation by players, club owners or league officials, said President John M. Heydler, of the National League today.

In order that the public and everyone connected with baseball may be informed of the conditions under which baseball will enter the new era, Mr. Heydler is having published a pamphlet containing every agreement and contract entered into be-

Troop 12 Defeated

In Wilhelmette hall Friday night, Troop 17 beat Troop 12 by a score of 27 to 16. Troop 12 was hampered by having only four men the greater part of the contest. The lineups:

Floyd C. Fuller has returned from Cincinnati, where he attended the annual meeting of the Ohio-Sand and Gravel Association. He was elected secretary.

For a New Umbrella.

Before using a new umbrella inject a small quantity of vaseline into the hinge portion of the frame. If put on carefully the vaseline will not spread and is a sure preventive against rust. Also, always stain wet umbrellas on their handle to dry. This allows the water to run off of them instead of into the part where the silk and ribs meet, thus causing the metal to rust and the silk to rot.—Good House-keeping.

Selby's Bowling League

In the Selby Bowling League Friday afternoon and evening the Messengers took three games from the Wreckers and the Champs took two out of three from the Stablers. The Messengers won by over 100 pins in the first game but the last two games were harder fought. Prosch was high man with Faught trailing close behind.

The Champs were not in their usual stride. Williams being their high man with 524. Davis was the main shooter for the Stablers, getting 497 in his three games. The scores:

Wreckers—D. Scott 90 128 125 343; Hamilton 153 142 154 451; Drennon 123 126 135 384; Heitman 135 155 172 462; Ruggles 102 108 134 401. Totals 603 729 751 2085.

Messengers—Prosch 132 172 181 485; E. Reinhardt 116 142 138 396; Collis 143 148 140 431; Moore 126 129 179 434. Totals 517 691 738 1948.

WOMAN REPRESENTATIVE HEARS AIMS OF WOMAN'S PARTY, CHOOSES CAPITAL OFFICE

Trapped by the "womanly wiles" of the party's representatives was the reason given by Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman-elect from Oklahoma, for holding her first important conference in Washington with leaders of the National Woman's party. Miss Alice, who is known as an anti-suffragist, is shown luncheon with Miss Anita Politzer, legislative secretary of the National Woman's party and a militant suffragist. The congresswoman-elect was in Washington to look over the available offices in the house office building to make sure of getting a good one. She has returned to Oklahoma and will not take up her residence in Washington until the "Democrats clear out."

"Ruth Day" In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Jan. 22.—The scheduling of the New York Yankees, with Babe Ruth as the headliner for an exhibition game at Redland Field on July 25 has already aroused much local interest, although the date is still more than six months away. Four or five hundred reservations have been made for the game at the offices of the club. Cincinnati's Cliff Martin, a dyed-in-the-wool fan, has put in an order for 50 seats and another block of the same size has been received by a party from Hamilton. It is expected that more than 20,000 people will see this game, even though it falls on a Monday.

Richards After Kilbane

DAYTON, O., Jan. 22.—Mike Yinger, matchmaker of the Miami Athletic Club, announced today that he offered Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, $15,000 for a ten-round no-decision match with Blockie Richards for March 4. Kilbane will be here Monday night to witness the Richards-Jacks bout. If the featherweight champion accepts Yinger's terms he will take the bout before his fifteen-round decision fight at Madison Square Garden with Andy Chaney, who recently defeated Charley Beecher in New York.

Rodgers To Help Coach

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 22.—C. W. Spears, formerly of Dartmouth, and now football coach of West Virginia university, will be assisted during the 1921 season by one of his former Dartmouth pupils, Frank Rodgers, all-American fullback of 1919, the athletic council announced today.

WEBER SELECTED

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 22.—Charles Weber, of Colgate, all-American end of 1912 and a member of the famous Colgate team which defeated Yale and Syracuse, will be the new assistant to Boyd Chambers, head coach at the University of Cincinnati. His election was made from forty applicants by the directors of the university athletic council.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 22.—Purdue's University basketball team will meet the Ohio State quintet here tonight. Preceding the basketball game wrestling teams from the two schools will compete.

Sandow Is In Demand

CINCINNATI, Jan. 22.—Del Clark, of Detroit, wired Young Sandow to come to that city at once, as he had a match for him with Carl Drennon, of Cleveland. Sandow replied that he could not leave until Tuesday, as he is training his brother Dave for his fight with Artie Root at the Cline Club's show on Monday night. The winner of this bout meets Blockie Richards later on.
